Headline:
Monday, low cloud slow to lift. Rain spreading from south.

Today:
Low cloud is likely to be slow to clear. Further outbreaks of rain are expected to spread up from the south in the afternoon and evening. Milder. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Areas of low cloud giving mist and fog patches in places, especially over hills. Showers or longer spells of rain in places, with the odd heavier burst. Breezier by dawn. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cloudy, wet morning for most. Rain becomes increasingly light and patchy through the afternoon, and as winds strengthen, some cloud breaks developing later. Mostly dry with lighter winds overnight. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Wednesday, a spell of heavy rain, then drier, brighter. Becoming windy but very mild. Thursday and Friday, often windy but very mild, further spells of rain but also drier interludes.
